1983 Annual Conference

Council has set Tuesday August 9th, 1983 as the date for this year's Conference at the same venue as last year - Yarra Room, Olympic Park. A very attractive programme is being planned, including local, interstate and international Co-operative speakers all of the highest calibre able to assist Victorian Co-operative bodies in their operation. Make a diary note for as many of your Board of Directors and management as possible to be present.

Full details of the programme and arrangements will be issued as soon as possible.

Co-operation in Schools

The provision of Government funds and a consideration of priorities for the research project into this programme has resulted in an appointment for the research officer being made with the object of gathering and analysing material on pre formal Co-operative education, development of appropriate curriculum material and ensuring a practical pilot scheme in Co-operative education can be undertaken in the Transition area of School to Work programmes.

Jeanette Fenelon has been appointed to the task. She will be based at Holmesglen College of TAFE.

Changes at the Registry

The Co-operative Societies Registry has been allocated to the Legal and Registry Division of the Ministry of Housing.

Mr. Warren Jungwirth has retired from the position of Registrar of Co-operative Societies and has been succeeded by Mr. Bill Kilpatrick, a solicitor and Chairman of the Minister's Legislative Review Committee.

Mrs. Linda Kuchmar has commenced twelve months maternity leave and her job is currently being done by Mr. Kerry Nolan.

Co-operative Societies Advisory Council

A proposal from Mr. Rawlinson, as a member of the Advisory Council, that more Government funds should be made available for promotion of Co-operation in the community was supported by that Council for submission to the Minister for inclusion in the State Budget for the coming financial year.

Liability of Co-operative Members

Section 52 of the Co-operation Act 1981 provides that "a society shall be formed with limited liability". This means that the extent of a member's legal liability is to the amount, if any, unpaid on his share capital.

The importance of maintaining correct records, complying with the Act and other relevant legislation, particularly so far as formal application for membership and shares is concerned, cannot be over emphasized.

A case, currently subjudice, was reported to the last meeting of Council when a reputed member shareholder of a Co-operative denies his liability on the grounds of inadequate completion of share application form.

One Liability of Co-operative Directors

Section 108 of the Co-operation Act 1981 requires officers or other persons having receipt or charge of any money of a Society to give security prescribed by regulations or be covered by Fidelity Guarantee Insurance approved by the Registrar.

Regulation 75 of the Co-operative Societies (General) Regulations
1982 reads :

Security by officers.

75. (1) The prescribed security for the purposes of section 108 of the Act is a bond from an insurance company -
- (a) in a form; and
  - (b) in the sum of money (being not less than $2000) approved by the registrar.
- (2) An officer or other person having the receipt or charge of any money of a society shall not enter on the duties of his office unless security as prescribed under sub-regulation (1) has first been obtained.
- (3) In sub-regulation (1) 'insurance company' means a body corporate authorized under the Insurance Act 1973 of the Commonwealth of Australia to carry on insurance business.
- (4) Where an offence against sub-regulation (2) is committed every director of the society who is in default also is guilty of the same offence and liable to a penalty of not more than $200.
